

SAVE THE DATE SUNDAY SEPTEMBER 7th 2014

WORCESTER REVOLUTION of 1774

What: A Celebration of the 1774 Worcester Revolution

When: Sunday September 7th 2014, 10am - 5pm

Where: Institute Park and environs, Worcester MA

In September 1774 thousands of Central Massachusetts militiamen put an end to British rule in rural Massachusetts. Two years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the men and women of Worcester County fought and won their own revolution - without firing a shot.

At last, the time to celebrate Worcester's role in American independence has come! On September 7th 2014, join Worcester County for a day-long festival commemorating this historical moment. Find out more at www.revolution1774.org/about.

Come and enjoy:

- A professional play by James David Moran telling the story of the Worcester Revolution
- Colonial crafts and music
- Kids' activities
- Author Ray Raphael book-signing and talk
- Historical reenactments, tours, and discussions
- "Walking the Gauntlet" Reenactment
- Food and more!

4,622 Militiamen

37 Towns

1 Historic Day

that

Liberated Worcester County

Image: Harry Aspinwall, actor

